The Crosby Cometh

By Buzz Rainer

If you would have society
Consider you as sane,
Don't overstep propriety
By standing in the rain!

But in the worst of weather
When wind and wave are high
The fans of golfdom gather Beneath our angry sky
To watch the greatest pros perform
To bask the Crosby clam
To follow through the raging storm
The National Pro-Am.

What is the fascination?
What causes folks to come?
An Arctic navigation
Would make a child's numb.

It's past my comprehension,
But still I'd like to state
In metrical dimension
What makes the Crosby great:

Three courses, quite beyond compare
All guaranteed to thin the hair.
Where Nature plays the major part
That makes an amateur of art.
Along the fairway's broken lines
Are colonnades of stately pines.
Wherever rock and wave unite—
A tapestry of blue and white.
The greens, like glass, are closely shorn,
And steeper than the Matterhorn.
With pin positions only 'guess-able'.

Feathers . . . From the Shaft

By Harry the Fletcher
No. 37

Too many restrictions give people conceptions, with most of us scared half to death; and the awful effects if you smoke cigarettes — one hardly dares take a deep breath.

There's the fog and the smog and hair off the dog must certainly give us bronchitis. If you don't get the hives eating too many chives, some other sad state will indict us.

Oh, I shudder to think of the evils of drink, and they say they put dope in the mixers. It's been hell on a man since the government ban on the Snake Oil and other elixirs.

But this morning I saw the very last straw—I feared it would happen here someday. We'd be better off dead, for this sign I saw said in black and white: "Never on Sunday!"

And furthermore they're inaccess-sible.
The bunkers stretching far and wide
Would make a camel run and hide.
As if all this were not enough,
A tiger lurks in every rough.
And everywhere the sea surrounds
What isn't marked out of bounds.
Of tragedies that may befall
The wind's by far the worst of all.
It whips across the rocky shore
And raises every golfer's score.

But on these courses you will see
The stars of golfdom's galaxy.
So study well the Casper touch,
The easy swing of "Mr. Dutch", Prodigious fairway shots by Bayer,
The gloomy garb of Gary Player.
That unanimity of Bolt's That's best described in terms of volts.
And Palmer paces, you will find,
Because an army's close behind,
That's moving with sufficient force To sweep the marshals off the course.

As always there will be on hand
The brightest stars of movieland.
What pro alive is fit to cope
With repartee by Robert Hope?
And Harris, founder of the myth:
"A foursome's best when there's a fifth."
And many more that you have seen

Cavorting on the silver screen.
But man and movie seldom mesh—
They look so different in the flesh!
Though seldom have I known a day worth
That one when I stood next to Hayworth!

You'll see the kings of every sport
To whom this game's a last resort.
For baseball boys throw in their towers
When they are forced to play their fouls.
Jim Brown is football's firebrand,
But what's he like in Cypress sand?
And Schofner catches fair enough.
But here he'll only catch the rough.
And as for Rigney and for Dark,
They manage well in any park.
They may excel as baseball coaches
But what about their long approaches?
But nonetheless, it's fun to trace Frustration on a hero's face,
And find a famous fellow who Can slice exactly as you do.

The friendly Clambake atmosphere Remains the same from year to year.
Despite the weather's varied range

There are some things that never change:
The caddies with the careless slouch,
The contemplative putter's crouch.
The fine approach, the deadly chip,
The putt that hangs upon the lip.
The silent crowds that push to see
Their favorite personality;
But constant above everything
The institution known as BING!
So I, for one, shall not complain;
The Crosby's here; bring on the rain!!!

Carmel Meadows Protests Grading

Property owners in Carmel Meadows are protesting grading done recently in the subdivision by Darrell C. Davidson on four of his lots.

Mrs. DeForest Sweeney, chairman of the Carmel Meadows Association, says her organization is concerned with the size of the cuts, along the south side of Ribera Rd.
just inside the subdivision, and the subsequent effects on drainage problems.

Following the annual meeting of the group at the firehouse in Carmel Highlands Monday night the matter came up for discussion.
It was pointed out that in the coast master plan there is a stipulation for scenic conservation zoning. It was agreed that the group would attempt to have this

Then . . . And Now With Bing

Today, with Carmel hostilities bursting at the seams, with Ocean Avenue and the north end of San Antonio a bumper-to-bumper stream of cars enroute to Pebble Beach, the Bing Crosby Clambake is underway. It is the 17th consecutive Crosby golf classic to be played here. It is the 23rd Bing Crosby Tournament.

On Friday, Jan. 10, 1947, the three-day National Pro-Amateur Golf championship sponsored by Bing, teed off at Cypress Point with the great Ben Hogan in the spotlight. There was $10,000 to be divided among the pros.

The lists of sportsmen, theatre and radio stars, was impressive.
The professional golfers included
Sam Snead, Lloyd Mangrum, Jimmy Demaret, Denny Shute and our own Lawson Little.

Johnny Weissmuller, Randolph
Scott, Dick Arlen and Bob Crosby numbered among the screen luminaries. That was before the days when Bob Hope teamed with Bing.

The 1947 Pro-Amateur purse was $10,000 in prize money, to be divided amongst the pros. While the six top amateurs were awarded Philco radios.

This year it is expected that the 3-day event will raise about $150,- 000 for youth activities and the afflicted. The biggest field in history of the tournament, 348 pros and amateurs, paired, are competing for the biggest purse of $60,000 for the pros. They are playing the three famous courses, Pebble Beach, Cypress Point and Monterey Peninsula Country Club.

Wind IN THE Pines

BY DON MARSHALL

The presence of prominent pasture-pool players notwithstanding, we WILL have good weather this weekend. My corns don't hurt, there isn't a whisper of a creak from any of my joints and I haven't seen a ring around the moon in two weeks.

In addition to all that, there were tree frogs singing Monday night in the Highlands and I heard crickets on Nacimiento grade last Sunday at dusk coming back from Jolon.

The only depressing sign I've seen is the annual migration of the whales. They seem to be heading southward in large numbers. (Do they travel in schools, packs or fleets?)

The frost in the air Wednesday morning was just more proof that it won't rain—it's just too cold, so they say.

The traffic has been building up all week. The hotels are full. By now you can hardly get through the streets, much less get a reservation for dinner.

I'm convinced it won't rain. It wouldn't dare. Not at the Crosby.

It's kind of fun, watching the great tournament's buildup each year. You can feel the excitement in the air for weeks. Officials in Pebble Beach do a great job on arrangements. It's an event we can all take pride in.

I'm certain it won't rain. Not this weekend. This is the Crosby. But just to be sure I'll carry an umbrella.

Nice day for a dryer.

But then again, so is every day. Because in addition to letting you dry the wash day or night—in any weather—a dryer dries better than anything under the sun. For example, with new damp dry settings, clothes come out just right for ironing. And some things need no ironing at all. Clothes also come out as clean as they went in. No clothesline marks, dust or dirt. Dryers also have a real soft touch. All your laundry comes out light and fluffy.

So far we haven't even mentioned how much work a dryer saves. But it will save you lugging two tons of wet wash a year.

Community Creative Arts Center as proposed on Sunset School site

Here is the proposed Creative Arts Center suggested for the Sunset School site. Besides 1500-seat auditorium, plan would provide a lecture hall, galleries, classrooms and studios. In order to present this in adequate size, we have eliminated the parking section shown for the balance of the site. Due to grade on site, multi-deck parking may be built without sacrificing natural beauty of surroundings. See story on page 15.

What's doing?

Eighty-seven years ago one of the world's first broadcasts took place — and it wasn't over a radio. It happened November 5, 1877, when three telephones were placed on the stage of the San Francisco Grand Opera House and wires were strung to five locations in the city. The opera "Mignon" was clearly heard over a phone at each point.

Although this "broadcast" covered only a few city blocks, it amounted to one of the first steps telephone people took toward network communications. Nowadays, phone lines help bring you broadcasts and telecasts from all over the world.

A modern home interphone system lets you take and make calls from different spots in the house, talk room-to-room, and even answer the doorbell.

Whether it's true or not, here is a story that shows a lady's ingenious use of the phone in ordering snap beans from a grocer. "Could you bring one to the phone?" she asked. "I want to make sure they're fresh."

The grocer did.

"Now," she asked, "would you please break it?"

He did, and she clearly heard the resounding pop.

"Fine," said the lady, "send me three pounds."

(I'll bet you, too, have found unusual uses for your phone, in addition to the everyday ways it saves you time and trouble.)

Clock fast? Watch slow? Check our time-of-day service. The number for Monterey Peninsula is 767-8900.

This phone was so charred in a fire its dial had melted, and the customer had to use her other phone to make calls. But the damaged phone worked so well in receiving calls, she used it for four months before calling in to have it replaced.

This shows the toughness and reliability built into all our telephone equipment. But I do want to mention that if your telephone should ever need any kind of repair, give us a call. One of our repairmen will put it back in shape quickly — at no extra cost to you.

Betty Washburn Weds

Thomas Anthony Finale

Betty Jean Washburn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Washburn of the Monterey Peninsula Country Club, Pebble Beach, became the bride of Thomas Anthony Finale of San Francisco at the Carmel Mission Basilica Saturday, January 11.

The Reverend Roger J. Desmond read the two o'clock service before a large group of Monterey Peninsula and Bay area friends.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a floor length white brocade gown, the empire style detailed with pearls around the portrait neckline. The beaded skirt extended into a sweep train. A crown of pearls held her silk illusion veil, and she carried a Prayer book marked with butterfly orchids and a cascade of bou-arria.

Mrs. Raymond W. Welch, matron-of-honor, and bridesmaids Mrs. Dale Lindsay, Mrs. Allen F. Bergquist and Miss Rosemarie Rodriguez, were dressed alike in turquoise peau de soie gowns made on Empire lines with floor length bell skirts and sabrina necklines. In their hair they wore a turn-of-the-century style which held matching circular veils, and they carried tree fern bouquets of yellow carnations and yellow roses.

Jerry Finale of San Francisco was best man for his brother and seating the guests were Robert Restani, brother-in-law of the groom, Richard Boyd and George Boyd, all of San Francisco.

Master Russell Restani was ring bearer. Miss Connie Lopez handled the bridal book.

A reception followed the service in the Copper Cup Room at the Naval Post Graduate School, for which Commander John A. Thayer was host.

Mrs. Raymond L. Washburn greeted her guests in a chiffon aqua sheath over taffeta made with a flowing drapery which fell from the waistline. Her hair was a flowered pill box, and her accessories were royal blue. A gold cynidium orchid corsage was pinned to her gown.

Mrs. Thomas J. Finale, mother of the groom, wore a blue chiffon gown with matching hat and accessories and her flowers were gold orchids.

When the couple left on a honeymoon in Southern California the bride was wearing a sand and gold imported Italian knit suit with brown accessories. The couple will make their home in San Francisco when they return.

The bride is a graduate of Pacific Grove High School and attended Monterey Peninsula College, and until her marriage was employed at Crocker-Citizens Bank in Pebble Beach.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Georgia Washburn, and aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mogila and cousin, Billie and Jimmie Mogila, all of Sanger. Mrs. Allen Mether, the bride's great-aunt, came from Bakerfield.

Other relatives of the bride unable to attend include her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Irene Titus of Panama City, Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Titus, Arto, Kay and Roy Titus of the same city.

The new bride, who attended school in San Francisco, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Finale of San Francisco. Mrs. Robert Restani and Jerry Finale of that city are his sister and brother.

The W. E. VanLoben Sels

Hospitality Overflows

With her calendar of social and civic activities crisscrossed all year round, Mrs. W. E. VanLoben Sels, it seems, is never happier than when their charming blue-gated home on Carmelo street is full to overflowing.

House guests for the Bing Crosby weekend have converged from all parts of the state, including Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Ellis from Fresno; Mr. and Mrs. Murray Johnson, down from Lafayette; Edward G. Sherry (Mrs. VanLoben Sels' sister and brother-in-law) and Mrs. Frank Kleeberger; Mrs. VanLoben Sels' mother.

There will be a gala cocktail and supper party tomorrow evening, the only regret of the VanLoben Sels being that they can't find room for just everybody they'd love to invite.

Symphony Guild Fulfills Pledge to Orchestra Assoc.

Making good their pledge to the Monterey County Symphony Association, Mrs. Kenneth Edmund, projects chairman of the Monterey County Symphony Guild presented a check for $3,000 to Symphony Association president H. G. Royal and Conductor John Goehring in a brief ceremony last Friday afternoon. The money will be used for orchestra expenses.

Symphony Guild president, Mrs. Frank G. Ringland, announces that the next pre-view tea, preceding the concert of Feb. 4, will be held at the Church of the Wayfarer, on Jan. 28. The guest artist will discuss the Feb. 4 program. Mrs. George Fletcher is Guild hospital-ity chairman.

Robert Rademacher Will Address Woman's Club

Robert Rademacher of Carmel will be the guest speaker at the Book Section meeting of the Carmel Woman's Club next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. His topic will be "Paper Back Books: Babylon."

According to Mr. Rademacher, not too long ago the public held the opinion that paper back books were only used for sensational fiction and were not classed with writings by serious recognized writers. However publishers have come to recognize the importance of getting fine literature, fiction, non-fiction and poetry into the hands of students who cannot afford the money or space to own hardbound volumes. Hence, the tremendous increase of the output and sale of paperbacks.

Following the speaker's address tea will be served by hostesses, Mrs. Clair J. Gates, Mrs. P. G. Preble, Mrs. James R. Price and Mrs. Norman Smith. Pouring tea will be Miss Margon By, Mrs. Paul A. Gilebe, Mrs. H. W. Hastings and Mrs. George Ivens Meier.

Admiral and Mrs. Bergin Give Champagne Preview

Cordiality, invariably present in U.S. Navy entertaining, blended with gracious formality, in the beautiful setting of Herrmann Hall of the Navy Postgraduate School last Sunday afternoon, when Admiral Charles K. Bergin, the school's superintendent and Mrs. Bergin hosted a champagne reception. Half a hundred guests were invited to preview the water colors of the famed U.S. Navy artist, Arthur Beaumont.

Unique in the history of art, the Beaumont paintings are of the vast Arctic and Antarctic regions surrounding the North and South Poles. The average temperature in which the artist worked was 28 degrees below zero and he was hampered by heavy clothing and gloves.

The paintings, beautifully spaced, on the walls of Herrmann Hall, tell stages of the frozen world, the history of the Northwest Passage and the proud accomplishments of our Navy.

Gold stripes and service ribbons were very much in evidence at the preview party. The warm friendliness of the Admiral and Mrs. Bergin was contagious. Commander Lawrence Banda, public relations and visit liaison officer, and the affable Lt. Ivan V. A. Nance, the Admiral's aide, seemed to be everywhere, contributing greatly to the party's success.

Vice-Admiral A. G. Robinson (Ret'd) and Mrs. Robinson were there. They're just returned to their Carmel Valley home after four months on the east coast where they attended the Admiral's 50th class reunion at Annapolis Naval Academy and then went on to Miami, Florida.

We chatted with the W. E. VanLobenSels and with Mrs. Frank G. Ringland. And giving us fascinating sidelights on the School was Senior Dean A. E. Vowell who told that the enrollment, full strength is 2200 students, including 100 foreign naval officers, representing navies 'round the world, with a goodly representation from the Royal Canadian Navy.

Mr. Beaumont's paintings will be on display at the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School during the month of January.

We're just beginning to realize how true it is that a man's thinking determines his life. Yet it was many years ago when the Bible proverb was written, "As he thinketh in his heart, so is he." This is one reason why prayer is so important. Prayer helps to bring our thoughts under the controlling power of God — to give us "the mind of Christ." You're invited to hear a one-hour public lecture on this subject by William Milford Cornell of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship. Title: "Your Thinking Determines Your Experience." Everyone is welcome.

Nong (Robert Han) managing director of the new "Chez Nong" Restaurant

"Chez Nong" in the Cypress West Hotel Has Gala Opening

More than 500 guests attended the lavish open house given by manager S. H. Vaughan of the Cypress West Hotel last Sunday.

An invitation in local newspapers, to all residents of the area and visitors, to inspect the new dining room, to meet the new dining room manager artist Nong (Robert Han) and to enjoy the smorgasbord created by Jack Gordon, the new chef, recently of the Harrah Club, met with enthusiastic response, from noon 'til late in the evening.

Nong, whose contemporary paintings have been shown in major galleries throughout the state has named the Cypress West restaurant-gallery "Chez Nong."

The white walls display the artist's paintings. The waitresses (natives of Korea), in the colorful costumes of their country, add a note of charm.

Breakfast, luncheon and dinner are served daily and the widely varied menu is in the best American tradition. The Chez Nong restaurant is open from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily with buffet service on Sundays, noon to 6 o'clock.

Carmelites Honored by Norwegian Invitation

Among those honored by an invitation to the Reception Jan. 16 for Crown Prince Harald of Norway, given by the Royal Norwegian Consul General at San Francisco, are Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. Bowman of Carmel.

Bowman was U.S. Consul at Eergen, Norway, when he met his future wife, opera singer Nancy Ness. Nancy Ness Bowman is a recipient of St. Olav's Medal, one rarely given to a woman, which was presented to her by the late King Haakon for her work for the Allies during World War II, when she sang for innumerable patriotic gatherings and fund-raising benefits in the United States.

Alice-Wonderland Theme for Fashion Show

Invitations to the annual fashion show and tea sponsored by the Monterey Peninsula Committee of Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc. will be in the mail this weekend.

"Alice in Fashion Land" is the theme of the affair which will take place at Del Monte Lodge on Feb. 4 at 2:30 p.m. As in the past a current membership in the organization will serve as admittance. New memberships are also encouraged to help meet this area's goal of training two man-dog units at a cost of $1,850 each.

An outstanding array of spring finery has been selected by Little's for display at the show and groups of these fashions will be introduced by dance excerpts from "Alice in Wonderland." The young dancers who will participate in this balletomime are members of Patricia Ramsey's Ballet de Patrice. They are: Geordie Withee, Andrea Segura, Robin Rumble, David Eagling, Wayne Eagling, Joy Hubbert, Elizabeth Kelly, Jo Linda Sorci, Debbie Elder, Gloria Hill, Jennifer Hubbert, Deborah Popple, Susan Sewald and Linda Wiley.

Mrs. James H. Parks, in chairman of the Monterey Peninsula Committee and Mrs. Sally Hull Pierce is in charge of the fashion show. Special guests from Guide Dog Headquarters who will be present are Mrs. Pierpont Morgan Hamilton, president; Mrs. Margo Cobey, public relations director and Mr. William Johns, executive director of Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc. Other out of town guests will be Mrs. Franklin Glaser of San Rafael and Mrs. Campbell Edgar of San Francisco. Mrs. Edgar was chairman of the local committee before she moved to San Francisco.

Miss Diane Cochran, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy L. Cochran of Carmel Valley, celebrated her fourth birthday last Saturday afternoon. The party guests were, Maureen Horan, Lee Jackson, Jennifer Schima, Elizabeth Copey and Diane's not so much bigger sister, Carolyn. Games were followed by white ice cream and pink cake. Then, everybody decided to go home.

Monterey County Symphony Conductor John Gosling made a flying trip to Windsor, Canada, on Tuesday. He appeared as guest conductor of the Windsor Symphony Orchestra yesterday evening.

Time and Anxiety is the title of an Alan Watts seminar to be held Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 18 and 19 at the Coast Gallery and the Big Sur Hot Springs, Big Sur. Sessions will be at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. each day at the Coast Gallery, and Saturday evening at 9 p.m. at the Hot Springs. In describing Dr. Watt's forthcoming seminar, which is one of a series held throughout California and sponsored by the Society For Comparative Philosophy, Inc. of Sausalito, the society states that "the running out, the getting later-and-later of time is the measure of Western man's anxiety—giving all life a quantitative value ('time and money') which impoverishes the whole of our experience." Alan Watts recently returned from his second tour of Japan with a group of students and at the end of February he will leave for a series of lectures and seminars in Eastern cities which will include a group of talks on "Religion and Art" at the New School for Social Research in New York and a lecture at the University of Delaware. Also, during this time, he will be engaged in research work with the Department of Social Relations at Harvard University.

During the Alan Watts weekend seminar there will be a special showing of drawings and paintings by Roland Hall at the Coast Gallery. Mr. Hall was among the Big Sur artists recently honored in the Eighteenth Annual Art Edition of the Monterey Peninsula Herald and a subsequent exhibit at the American Federation of Arts Gallery in Carmel.

For further information and/or reservations for this special weekend in Big Sur, Telephone Big Sur 2634.

A wild boar dinner, complete with special dressing, wild rice, and as a final course, an old-fashioned English pudding, was planned by the owners-managers of the Redwood Lodge and Camp, Big Sur, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Nedelcove and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pink, for their friends, residents and temporary residents of Big Sur, who would not otherwise be present at a large family gathering at the holiday season. More than 25 people accepted the Nedelcove's and the Pink's generous and thoughtful invitation. Included among them were a number of members of the State Highway Department who are temporarily in Big Sur working on bridge construction, personnel from the Navy Facility at Point Sur, and a member of the United States

Forest Service. Redwood Lodge is situated on Highway One, adjoining Pfeiffer State Park, Big Sur.

$27,793.51 Donated By M.P.V.S. During 1963

Mrs. W. Lincoln Noelle, retiring president of Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services, disclosed at the meeting of Jan. 10 at the Monterey USO that $27,793.51 had been donated to various cultural and charitable agencies of the community during 1963. The Visiting Nurses Association received $2760.00 as the proceeds from the spring Garden Tour and the Family Service Agency received $8500 from the October Flea Market.

Mrs. Arthur Dresser, chairman of the finance committee, presented the list of the other recipients which included the Monterey USO, Tri-county Science Fair, Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies, Boy Scouts, Carmel Pony League, World Affairs Council of Monterey, Carmel Valley Community Center, Student Employment Service, Association for Gifted Students, Mercy Project Ambulance for Seaside, Carmel Youth Center, Activities for the Handicapped, Carmel Foundation, American Field Service, Children's House, Citizens International Students Committee, Monterey Peninsula Christmas Bureau, Logan School, Community Hospital, and the Monterey Peninsula Community Chest. The funds for the above were mostly earned by the volunteer workers of the MPVS Thrift Shop, 785 Broadway, Seaside, of which Mrs. J. B. Farrar was the chairman.

PADRE PATER

by Mary Hurn

Last week, a group of fifty-two seniors held a meeting to make plans for the senior play. The group discussed whether they should present a melodrama or a light comedy. Fran Kibler was elected as student chairman of the production. Mrs. Kramer is the director of the play. Other faculty advisors include Mrs. Down, Mr. Farr, and Miss Sharp. A student committee was selected to work with the faculty advisors on selection of a play and the appointment of a student director. The students on this committee are Fran Kibler, Carlin Arriola, Laddy Kratky, Jim Miller, and Jerry Zellhoefer.

Yesterday (Wednesday) 20 members of the California Scholarship Federation went on a field trip. They first visited the IBM plant at San Jose. Next, the group went to San Francisco and saw the new cinerama, "It's a Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World." They ended the day with dinner at Fisherman's Wharf. This club is sponsored by Mr. DiStefano.

The cheer and songleaders held a rally last Friday in the high school gym. It was to bolster school spirit for the basketball game that night with the undefeated Gilroy team.

Recently, a new committee has been formed in connection with Student Council. This committee is to investigate the problems facing Carmel High School—lack of spirit, a messy campus, and the general attitude of unconcern and lack of cooperation among the students. This committee includes Steve Arson, Pam Baldwin, Daphne Dennis, Ronnie Fukagawa, Fred Gehring, Kathy Guy, Bob Holmes, Scott Hennessey, Matt Little, Jim Miller, Randy Mapstead, Dave Preve, Bud Smith, Terre Stier, Tom Poulos, and Ricky Wilkerson.

School Questionnaires Draw Response

Mrs. Eleanor Crouch of the Carmel Unified School District announced this week that the community resources questionnaires sent out recently by the district are still coming in. Another mailing will be completed this week, she added.

Mrs. Crouch pointed out that anyone who would like to have a questionnaire may call her at the district office, MA 4-1546.

The questionnaires are designed to find people who are specialists in various fields who would be willing to assist the school district in making education a more meaningful experience for students. They are the result of Superintendent Medill Bair's observation that we live in an area in which reside some of the most able people in a multitude of specialties.

Most replies which have come in, she indicated, have come from people who have traveled in various countries and would like to speak about the trip to classes. Other groups which have answered in large numbers include fine arts and children's authors, business people to speak about their careers, professional people and others in the scientific and mathematics field.

Richard F. Sorell New Partner of L. H. Sullivan

Newcomers to Carmel are Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Sorell and their three year old daughter Rebecca. Mr. Sorell after 22 years service in the U.S. Army has retired from military life and become the partner of L. H. Sullivan, Carmel Florist, in the Doud Arcade.

Coming here directly from Nicaragua, where Mr. Sorell served his last tour of duty, the Sorells have settled in their new home on Santa Fe and Third. Mrs. Sorell, a native of Massachusetts, has studied floral arrangements in Japan as well as in the United States.

Register Now for M.P.C. Entrance Exams

Students planning to enter Monterey Peninsula College as Freshmen this spring are urged to apply now and "get their transcripts in," Mrs. Marjorie Marshall, M.P.C. dean of students, said today.

Actual registration will not take place, she said, until after entrance examinations—required of all first-time registrants—are taken.

These examinations will be given Thursday, Jan. 16, 8:30 a.m. in the library lecture hall on campus, and again Thursday, Jan. 23. The tests cover scholastic aptitude, English proficiency and mathematical ability.

Freshmen will then be given appointments for interviews with counselors.

M.P.C.'s spring semester begins Jan. 29.

Marquita Brey to Speak at Carmel Jr. High

In the interest of the Delta Kappa Gamma Scholarship Fund Mrs. Marquita Brey of Carmel High School English Department will speak on Biblical Literature this evening at 8 p.m. in Junior High School cafeteria. Music and an informal hour of refreshments will follow Mrs. Brey's talk. The public is invited. One dollar donations to the scholarship fund may be volunteered.

Carmel Foundation Program Has Appeal

Mrs. Ruth Thornburg, director of the Carmel Library gave a book review yesterday at the regular Wednesday afternoon meeting of The Carmel Foundation Town House at 3 p.m.

All regular groups are meeting again, shuffleboard, woodworking, beginning and advanced French conversation; Spanish, the Studio Painting Group; Rug Hooking; Stitchery and Sewing; Friday, bridge and tea.

Anyone wishing information about any of the activities or Home Service of the Carmel Foundation may call 624-1588 and ask for the monthly bulletin called Town House Topics and for the annual report which describes the organization and its aims.

The Art Exhibit of the month is made up of the picture maps of Miguel Covarrubias of the peoples, habitats, and arts of the South Pacific and of two prints of murals painted by Millard Sheets entitled "The Pageant of the Pacific."

Town House is open daily, Monday through Friday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and is located one door south of Elgin on Lincoln.

'Great Decisions'*Groups Formed

The 1964 topics for the "Great Decisions" home discussion groups are announced by the Discussion Group Center of the Monterey Peninsula, in the annual eight-week program starting Feb. 9 as:

1. World communism today — how great the danger?
2. France and the West — will Atlantic unity survive?
3. Egypt and the Middle East — what prospects for stability?
4. Disarmament — alternative to the balance of terror?
5. Castro's Cuba — challenge to the Americas?
6. Indonesia — guided or misguided democracy?
7. Foreign aid — how long? how much? for what?
8. Ideological warfare — who's winning?

Registration of groups participating this year will be effected on Sunday, Jan. 19, from 3 to 5 p.m. at the Legion Hall, Carmel (Dolores between 8th and 9th) at a reception and tea arranged by the first "Great Decisions" group formed in this area, a membership activity of the Church in the Round. Invitations are being sent to local churches, clubs, and civic organizations, and registration is open to any individuals who wish to form neighborhood or other groups of six to twelve members. Last year, over 300,000 Americans in more than 1,000 communities took part in this program, using researched, unbiased material supplied by the 40-year-old Foreign Policy Association, whose western headquarters are at 46 Kearny Street, San Francisco.

Last year groups were formed in Carmel, Monterey, Pacific Grove and Carmel Valley, and ballots indicating individual preferences in the solution of critical problems of U.S. Foreign Policy were forwarded to state and national legislators and to the U.S. Department of State. Appreciative letters were received in reply from Senators Kuchel and Engel, and Representative Talcott in Washington, Senator Farr and Assemblyman Pattee in Sacramento, and from Edward A. Karmack, Chief of the Office of Public Services, Department of State, Washington.

A panel of temporary officers of the local Discussion Group Center will be announced at the open house on Jan. 19. Mrs. R. H. Town-er of Carmel is serving as secretary pro tem, Edwin L. McCurdy of Carmel will act as treasurer for the registration, Mrs. Ruth Arndt of Pacific Grove will preside at the tea table, and Mrs. Dorothy Stevens of the Altusa Club is issuing invitations to local civic leaders.

Linus Pauling Is*MPC Speaker

Chemist Linus Pauling, twice recipient of the Nobel Prize, will open the spring, 1964, evening lecture series Jan. 31 at Monterey Peninsula College.

2. Entries are restricted to books bearing a 1963 original publication date.

5. Awards will consist of not more than two gold and six silver medals:

The winning book must have exceptional literary qualities; (f) one "Californiana" silver medal for the best book of fiction or non-fiction of historical import or historical significance relating to California.

6. A writer who has once been awarded a first-place medal will not be eligible for another medal of the same category.

7. Entries may be made by the author or the publishers, who must mail at least two copies of each book entered, together with the entry blank to Stuart Richardson Ward, Secretary, Literature Medal Award Jury, Commonwealth Club of California, Hotel St. Francis, San Francisco, California (49119).

Ernest S. Crosby Authors Very Interesting Book

REFORMATION AND THE REFORMERS, by Ernest S. Crosby of Carmel. Printed and distributed in Europe by Drukkerij Holland N.V., Amsterdam. On sale at The Bookworm, Carmel.

For those who have no time for extended study and research, a book such as this fills a long felt want. Written by a layman for laymen, according to the foreword, it tells in easily understandable terms and interesting chronology the story of the Christian religion, omitting nothing.

"The story of the Reformation abounds in both heroes and villains, distributed in good measure on both sides," the author tells us. "Indeed there seems to have been an unconscionable number of villains."

Not until now, after reading this valuable volume of 622 pages, has this reviewer realized that the New Testament was written entirely by the Church of Rome hundreds of years after the death of Christ on the Cross, and not one word has any authenticity as to its originality or correct reporting.

What was reformed? And what was the object of the great reformation? Simply that the Church of Rome had grown into a vast organization of corrupted clergy intent primarily on amassing wealth, not to be spent on the poor or to erect buildings, but to be "squandered on harlots and banquets, horses and hunting dogs, splendid robes and other things unworthy of the religion of Christ." (Jerome of Prague, Pg. 67).

The author gives mention early in the narrative of "that shadowy phenomenon known as the Holy Roman Empire, about which someone had quipped that it was "not holy, not Roman, and never quite an empire." And further, "in retrospect the Holy Roman Empire seems a rather pathetic attempt on the part of the Christian Church to reconstruct the civil society of the fallen Roman Empire to which it had accommodated itself so comfortably after the time of Constantine."

Then the author takes us through the pre-reformers and the humanists, setting the stage for the upheaval, and then to the great reformers, Luther, Zwingli, and Calvin, with their lesser, but none the less effective satellites.

The book makes an absorbing, well constructed story, and is handled by author Crosby with delightful commentaries, fresh and responsible reasoning, and unprejudiced logic, which all adds up to entertaining and instructive reading. It should be read by every officer and layman of a church of whatever persuasion, and also by non-churchgoers, believers and disbelievers alike. We may have heard about the Reformation in college, but the attitude was always, "who cares?" This book changes our viewpoint.

Moreover, this book should have an important part in the history of future America, if only to put the clergy in its proper light. More and more, religionists have been creeping into our national scene, into the conduct of our national government, even protruding their unwanted presence into our national schools. Far, far too many uneducated fanatics are founding too many unnecessary, unorthodox, fear-threatening so-called churches, and it is high time somebody threw the searchlight into the dark corners of fanaticism.

Perhaps author Crosby had no intention of becoming a torchbearer, and would disclaim such an honor. However, in his closing paragraphs he does say:

"The evil done by the followers of Christ in His name staggers the imagination... As for ourselves, we have the Reformation lessons before us to be used, if we will, for the continuing renovation and rededication of our churches; to get rid of the narrow concepts of orthodoxy and heresy and the persecuting spirit; to abandon the base misuse of the churches for secular purposes, be they good or evil; to rid them of the entanglement with government and power; to restore them to the status which Christ achieved in His own day—the joyous, uncoerced fellowship of His followers and the vehicle of their worship and approach to the Father He proclaimed."

Visiting Shell Executive Has Artistic Talent

Pre-viewing the new Shell-by-the-Sea service station at San Carlos and Fifth last week, was Herb Bailey from Shell Oil headquarters. The guest of Alfred Hood, the new Carmel station manager, Herb was shown the town. But Carmel wasn't really new to him.

Several years ago Herb was stationed at Fort Ord. Carmel influence rubbed off (or on) and he not only went in for painting abstracts, he interested a patriotic young miss and his canvasses were hung in the Carmel Art Association.

Have you noticed that the realm of dreams is pierced by illuminative gleams
That open up clairvoyant seams?

We learn what we should not have done
In webs of confusion that were spun
Beneath the waking hours of sun;

And, lying upon our shambrous bed,
May look along a shimmering thread
To glimpse events that lie ahead.

May it not be that when we die,
Leaving the weather beneath this sky
For one beyond the ear and eye,

We shall learn the worth or unworth
Of all we did while on the earth.
And gain a vision of future birth?

Creative Arts Center Committee Formed in Carmel

A Committee for a Creative Arts Center was formed in Carmel this week. A dozen persons representing various cultural interests and communities constituted a steering committee as a forerunner of a nonprofit corporation to build such a center.

The group stated its aim is to build a concert hall-theater, art gallery, and museum for the Monterey Peninsula. They hope to build it on the Sunset School site in Carmel, at no cost to the taxpayers, and ultimately to turn it over to the city.

The proposed center would include parking for about 500 cars. A sketch of such a center on the Sunset site was released by the group, and reproduced on page 1. Mrs. W. E. van Loben Sels, who was elected chairman pro tem of the committee, said: "If the City makes the Sunset School site available, we will finance the buildings through grants, contributions, and other revenue sources."

"From Carmel's viewpoint, this project will be the means of preserving our traditional Carmel while at the same time increasing the city's income. From the viewpoint of the Peninsula, it will permit presentation of first-line musical and theatrical events and showings of the best art in the country."

Other temporary officers elected were Kenneth A. Egan, vice-chairman, and Henry Huntington II, secretary. Other members of the steering committee are: Lester Bassell, Frederick P. Dubring, Leonard G. Heller, Leonard W. Klase, Mrs. Douglas D. MacGregor, Mrs. Frank G. Ringland, Fritz Wurmman. In addition, many other civic leaders and organizations have endorsed the proposals.

The City of Carmel has made an offer of $550,000 to the School District for Sunset School. If the city completes the purchase, the nonprofit organization would lease the site and construct the improvements.

The committee proposes a $1,900,000 Creative Arts Center, including an auditorium adequate for the Bach Festival and other prime musical and theatrical events, and fireproof buildings for housing valuable art treasures.

It would finance the improvements through private contributions, foundation grants, and possibly the sale of tax-exempt bonds. Among groups which have endorsed the proposed Center are the Monterey County Symphony Association, Bach Festival, Carmel Art Association, Monterey Peninsula chapter of the American Federation of Arts, Carmel Music Society, Committee for the Festival Theatre, and the Carmel City Arts Commission.

and Bob Thompson.

Ten Eager Beavers and An Astronaut

"He told us he was a Space Age Jerk and he told us just how he got that way—it sounded pretty hard."

Fred Bell, the 10-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. R. W. Bell of Carmel, is a very earnest young man. He gave a party last week and invited nine pals, all fifth and sixth graders at Sunset School, to meet Lt. Eugene N. Cernan, brand new astronaut who was awarded his diploma at the U.S. Navy Postgraduate School on Jan. 10.

The guests didn't think the party was any time for horsing around, or nonsense, they had a lot of serious questions to ask. Perhaps Fred had been tipped off by his father, who is chairman of Aeronautics at the Graduate School. It was Fred who asked what Lt. Cernan termed the 'sticky' questions.

"How were you chosen?"

"I studied very hard at school and then I entered the Navy. That was in June 1956. In October that same year I commenced flight training and, believe it or not, in November 1957 I was told I was a Naval aviator!"

"Sounds easy, but, for instance, wasn't learning pretty tricky. I mean learning to go to the moon?" a young guest asked.

Lt. Cernan impressed his listeners with the supreme importance of mathematics and concentration on the job in hand. "Astronauts must calculate distance and position every minute despite any and every variety of interference. For instance, part of the training includes bells ringing, lights flashing and, through ear phones listening to the Morse code while you're piloting your jet into the far blue, maybe to the moon!"

Fred Bell and his pals looked with reverence upon their guest. They concluded they'd like to see those moon men but maybe it was just as well that Lt. Cernan was a few years ahead of them, to do some pioneering.

Lt. Cernan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Cernan of Bellwood, Ill. He entered the U.S. Navy upon his graduation from Purdue University in 1956 and commenced his flight training the same year. He, like all U.S. astronauts is married.

The degree of Master of Science in Aeronautical Engineering was conferred upon him by Rear Admiral Charles K. Bergin at the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School on Jan. 10. His future duties will range from the depths of the sea to outer space.

Lt. Cernan's new duty station and Space Administration, Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston.

Carmel Council Acts

On Lengthy Agenda

Carmel City Hall Council Chambers were crowded to capacity last Wednesday night to hear and see city government in action.

When the Council roll was called at 7:45 with all members present, Mayor Eben Whittlesey greeted half a hundred students of Carmel High School, members of the civics class.

On the lengthy agenda acted upon by the Council there were major issues of prime interest of all citizens of Carmel.

Placed on the June elections ballot: The proposed Peninsula park district. The proposal has already been endorsed by the city councils of Pacific Grove and Monterey, at the request of the Tri-City Committee and the Peninsula Area Planning Commission.

The Park District, as presented by the Area Planning Commission would embrace: in Carmel, Junipero Serra, a conservation area at the mouth of the Carmel River that would be extended to Carmel Mission; in Carmel Valley, along the Carmel River from the Farm Center to Los Laureles Grade; Monterey Pines: embracing some 2000 acres east of Highway 1; the fourth area, Laguna Grande, on the Monterey-Seaside border.

It was pointed out by Councilman Frank Putnam that the creation of such recreational areas would be highly advantageous to Carmel, but, as the creation of such a district would bring an added tax burden (15 cents per $100 of assessed valuation has been suggested)—in view of the city's proposed purchase of the Sunset School property and the subsequent tax burden upon the citizens, the Council should at this date set the Parks Area proposal aside. Mayor Eben Whittlesey agreed with Councilman Putnam.

Speaking from the floor, Rear Admiral C. W. Fisher, U.S.N. Ret., pointed out that the request was type of zoning extended to cover the subdivision through the county planning commission.

Contacted at his home Wednesday morning, Davidson told the PINE CONE that "the grading was necessitated by requirements of lending institutions. The lots were unbuildable in their natural state. We checked very carefully to learn if there were any permits required for grading. We went ahead and had the work done after we found that no permits were required."

He stated that he has applied for building permits on four houses and that if they are successful he plans to build another five on Ribera Road. He also has an option on another piece of property north of Ribera.

Davidson said he couldn't understand why he is encountering such opposition to his construction of the $40,000 homes. He added that he has circulated a petition, which asks that the permits be granted, and has received about 40 signatures out of the 70 Carmel Meadows property owners. The signers, he said, include all people who own property adjacent to the four lots in question.

Davidson said he moved here about three months ago from the Bay Area after many years of visiting the Peninsula. His move, he asserted, was for reasons of his wife's health.

not for endorsement, but to petition the board of supervisors to put the issue on the ballot. Councilman Frank Putnam moved that the report not be adopted and that the council ask the board of supervisors for an election. The motion was carried unanimously.

The Forest Theater-in-the-Ground was leased to Geza St. Galy, and Miss Blanche Tolmie under the title Puppets of Carmel until Dec. 31, 1964 for the fee of $1.00
